

The
Memento
Blanket

Part 3 – ‘April Showers’

By Anita Gibney

I can't believe we have reached Part 3 already, a quarter of the way through our stash busting year!

The theme for this month's square is April showers. As I'm writing this in early April, it's a very cold, wet day. But hopefully better weather is just around the corner.

I dug deep into the scrap bag for this square. I don't often use really bright rainbow colours in my crochet but managed to find scraps from my Grandson's Rocket C2C blanket and orange from the first mitred square blanket I made.

I love seeing your finished squares, so please remember to share them with me on Instagram @madebyanita or @mycraftlife or on Facebook #Mycraftlife.

Anita x

Here is my layout for April, and a blank for you to try out your own scheme with the colours you have in your stash.

