

The Memento
Blanket

Part 5 - 'Strawberry'

By Anita Gibney

madebyanita

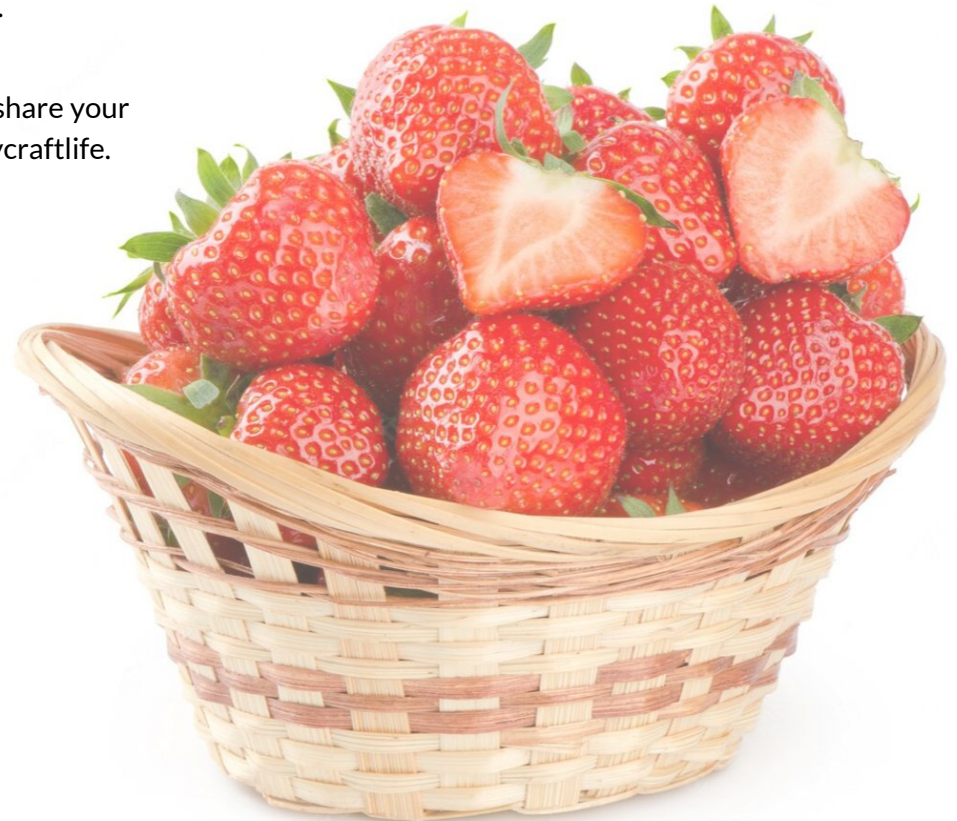

June already! I'm not even sure how that is possible. This year really seems to be flying by.

June in England means strawberries to me. I live in Kent in South East England, which is a huge strawberry producing area. Stalls selling fruit pop up along the roadside and of course there's pick your own!

Strawberries are my favourite fruit, so I just had to include them in my blanket. I don't use a huge amount of red when I crochet, so there wasn't much to choose from in my stash, but I did find a couple of yarns that remind me of special makes. There is a dusky pink, which was the last few metres of a Stylecraft Batik swirl. I used that to make a cushion for a special friend. And then there is the bright red. That's left over from the 'Christmas Eve Wishes' blankets that I made for my grandchildren. It will be Christmas again before we know it.

I hope you enjoy making this with me! I would love you to share your progress with me on Instagram with @madebyanita or #Mycraftlife.

Anita x

Here is my layout for June, and a blank for you to try out your own scheme with the colours you have in your stash.

